Applications for Post Graduate Diploma in Technology Enhanced Teaching and Learning (PGDTETL) 2026- 2027 Academic Year

The Botswana Open University (BOU) invites applications for the above programme, starting in January 2027. Note that the programme is offered online. Therefore, you can apply to any Regional Campus of your choice regardless of your geographic location.

The PGDTETL programme is a teacher, and education professionals capacity development programme designed and developed to provide rich and varied online learning and online resources management experiences that provide grounding in the theory and an exploration of integration of technology in teaching and learning as an area of study within education.The programme is designed based on adoption and adaptation of the COL Teacher ICT Integration OER Programme. It is designed with emphasis on practical skills that will be aligned to good practices of pedagogy and subject knowledge in teaching and learning that is dynamic and relevant to the 21st Century Learner

The programme is aimed at producing graduates that are more productive, effective, and impactful in the Integration of Technology and Managing Technology Spaces in teaching and learning. This will enable them to enjoy a competitive advantage over teachers and educators who have not taken this specialized training. The programme is designed in line with the national policy documents such as; Vision 2036, Pillar 1, which commits to leveraging economic growth on ICT, and the ETSSP Strategic Priority 10, which encourages and promotes integration of ICT in teaching and learning. The philosophy behind the structure of this Post Graduate Diploma programme is to facilitate teacher capacity building and educational technology managers, on integration of ICT in teaching and learning using the ODL and Blended Learning modes of delivery.
